Forrest Kinney, pianist, arranger and composer, is a Nationally Certified Teacher of Music (NCTM), and has taught music for four decades. His goal is to help others become creative, whole musicians capable of enjoying the Four Arts of Music: improvising, arranging, composing, and interpreting.

Author of thirty books and collections of musical compositions, including Pattern Play and Chord Play (published by Frederick Harris Music), Forrest has written articles for such publications as American Music Teacher, Clavier Companion, and Music Matters. He is widely sought after as a guest clinician, and has been featured extensively at both MTNA and NCKP conferences. For more information, go to: www.forrestkinney.com
